

The UCLA History Department
With the support of the Center for Social Theory and Comparative History,
The Gary B. Nash Chair of American History, and the US History Colloquium
Presents

Settler Colonialism in US History: A Seminar in the Wake of Two Recent Books

Thursday, May 10, 2012
6275 Bunche Hall
2:30 p.m. - 6 p.m.

Session I: 2:30p.m.—4 p.m

Aziz Rana (Cornell University) will present his book,
The Two Faces of American Freedom

Discussant: Lorenzo Veracini (Swinburne University of Technology and Visiting Professor at UCLA)

Session II: 4:30—6 p.m.

Craig Yirush (UCLA) will present his book,
Settlers, Liberty, and Empire: The Roots of Early American Political Theory
Discussant: Patrick Wolfe (Stanford University and La Trobe University)

Convened by Gabriel Piterberg (UCLA)